- (e) the provisions of section 56 are complied with by the Board.

65. Shareholder discounts

(1) The Board may resolve that the company shall offer shareholders discounts in respect of some or all of the goods sold or services provided by the company.

- (b) made available to all shareholders or all shareholders of the same class on the same terms.

(3) A discount scheme shall not be approved, or where it had previously been approved shall not be continued by the Board unless it has reasonable grounds to believe that the company satisfies the solvency test.

(4) Subject to subsection (5), a discount accepted by a shareholder under a discount scheme approved under this section shall not be a distribution for the purposes of this Act.

(5) Where—

- (a) a discount is accepted by a shareholder under a scheme approved by the Board; and
- (b) after the scheme is approved or the discount was offered, the Board ceases to be satisfied on reasonable grounds that the company would satisfy the solvency test, section 66 shall apply in relation to the discount with such modifications as may be necessary as if the discount were a distribution that is deemed not to have been authorised.

66. Recovery of distributions

(1) A distribution made to a shareholder at a time when the company did not, upon distribution being made, satisfy the solvency test may be recovered by the company from the shareholder unless—

- (a) the shareholder received the distribution in good faith and without knowledge of the company's failure to satisfy the solvency test;
- (b) the shareholder has altered the shareholder's position in reliance on the validity of the distribution; and
- (c) it would be unfair to require repayment in full or at all.

- (a) the procedure set out in section 61 has not been followed; or
- (b) reasonable grounds for believing that the company would satisfy the solvency test in accordance with section 61 or 81, as the case may be, did not exist at the time the certificate was signed, a director who failed to take reasonable steps to ensure the procedure was followed or who signed the certificate, as the case may be, shall be personally liable to the company to repay to the company so much of the distribution which cannot be recovered from shareholders.

(3) Where, by virtue of section 61 (4), a distribution is deemed not to have been authorised, a director who—

(1) Where a company—

- (a) alters its constitution;
- (b) acquires shares issued by it; or
- (c) redeems shares under section 78,

in a manner which would cancel or reduce the liability of a shareholder to the company in relation to a share held prior to that alteration, acquisition or redemption, the cancellation or reduction of liability shall be treated for the purposes of section 61 as if it were a distribution and for the purposes of section 63 (2) as if it were a dividend.

(2) Where a company has altered its constitution, acquired shares or redeemed shares under Sub-Part E in a manner which cancels or reduces the liability of a shareholder to the company in relation to a share held prior to that alteration, acquisition or redemption, that cancellation or reduction of liability shall be treated for the purposes of section 62 as a distribution of the amount by which that liability was reduced.

(3) Where the liability of a shareholder of an amalgamating company to that company in relation to a share held before the amalgamation is—

- (a) greater than the liability of that shareholder to the amalgamated company in relation to a share or shares into which that share is converted; or
- (b) cancelled by the cancellation of that share in the amalgamation, the reduction of liability effected by the amalgamation shall be treated for the purposes of section 66 (1) and (3) as a distribution by the amalgamated company to that shareholder, whether or not that shareholder becomes a shareholder of the amalgamated company of the amount by which that liability was reduced.

(4) A company shall not make any payment in whatever form to acquire or redeem any share issued by the company where there are reasonable grounds for believing that the company is, or would after the payment, be unable to satisfy the solvency test.

(5) A company shall not acquire or redeem its own shares where, as a result of such acquisition or redemption, there would no longer be any shares on issue other than convertible or redeemable shares.

(2) A shareholder who considers that the price stated by the Board is not fair and reasonable, shall forthwith, but at any rate, not later than 14 days of receipt of notice under subsection (1) give written notice of objection to the company.

(3) Where the shareholder does not raise an objection under subsection (2), the company shall, on such date as the company and the shareholder agree or, in the absence of any agreement, as soon as practicable, purchase all the shares at the stated price.

(8) The arbitrator shall expeditiously determine a fair and reasonable price for the shares on the day prior to the date on which the vote of the shareholders authorising the action was taken or the date on which written consent of the shareholders without a meeting was obtained excluding any appreciation or depreciation directly or indirectly induced by the action or its proposal, and that price shall be binding on the company and the shareholder for all purposes.

(9) In the case of shares which are listed on a securities exchange, the arbitrator shall determine the price for the shares as being the price at which such shares are traded on the securities exchange as at the close of business on the day prior to the date on which the vote of shareholders authorising the action was taken or the date on which written consent of shareholders without a meeting was obtained, excluding any appreciation or depreciation directly or indirectly induced by the action or its proposal, and that value shall be binding on the company and the shareholder for all purposes.

(2) Every holder of shares that are to be purchased in accordance with the arrangement shall be indemnified by the company in respect of loss suffered by reason of the failure by the person who has agreed to purchase the shares to purchase them at the price nominated or fixed by arbitration, as the case may be.

112. Court may grant exemption

(1) A company to which a notice has been given under section 109 may apply to the Court for an order exempting it from the obligation to purchase the shares to which the notice relates, on the grounds that—

- (a) the purchase would be disproportionately damaging to the company;
- (b) the company cannot reasonably be required to finance the purchase; or
- (c) it would not be just and equitable to require the company to purchase the shares.

(2) On an application under this section, the Court may make an order exempting the company from the obligation to purchase the shares, and may make any other order it thinks fit, including an order—

- (a) setting aside a resolution of the shareholders;

- (c) the company has, following reasonable efforts to do so, been unable to arrange for the shares to be purchased by another person in accordance with section 109 (2) (b).

(2) Where the Court is satisfied that the purchase of the shares would result in the company failing to satisfy the solvency test and the company has made reasonable efforts to arrange for the shares to be purchased by another person in accordance with section 109 (2) (b), the Court may make—

- (a) an order exempting the company from the obligation to purchase the shares;
- (b) an order suspending the obligation to purchase the shares; or
- (c) such other order as it thinks fit, including any order referred to in section 112 (2).

(2) Where the variation of rights attached to a class of shares is approved under subsection (1) and the company becomes entitled to take the action concerned, the holder of a share of that class, who did not consent to or cast any votes in favour of the resolution for the variation, may apply to the Court for an order under section 178, or may require the company to purchase those shares in accordance with section 108.

(3) In this section—

“class” means a class of shares having attached to the shares the same rights, privileges, limitations and conditions;
